

Cloud PBX

Easy and straightforward telephone system for your company with all the PBX capabilities at a fraction of the cost.

Jenny Cloud PBX is a VoIP telephone system installed onto one of Jenny Internet's core servers; configured especially for your company. Jenny Cloud PBX has all the capabilities expected from a standard PBX and much more. It is simple for us to add extensions or functions to your Cloud PBX as and when you require them, at no extra cost. Minimise your costs because you no longer need an on-site PBX.

Benefits

- Keep your current landline number. Simply port your telephone numbers across to Jenny.
- Custom company greeting.
- Set-up ring groups, e.g. Press 1 for sales, press 2 for support etc.
- Add new extensions easily.
- Have internal extensions at external branches. (Have a salesperson work from home as your PBX is in the cloud)
- Call forwarding.
- Voice Mail.
- We can essentially set-up any PBX function you require, when you need it.

Problems with on-site PBX Systems

A PBX is usually a large expensive system that is installed at your company premises. These systems are notoriously difficult to configure which means they are expensive to maintain. There is also a limit on the amount of extensions you can add to the PBX. Functions are limited and you pay extra for almost any function. Finally, they have a life expectancy therefore you would need to replace your PBX every few years.

Solution

For your company to be the best you will need a PBX that does not limit your business in any way. You need to be able to add extensions, change ring groups or even set up a phone at a remote location through Internet whenever it is needed. It is essential that your PBX is ageless.

Jenny Offer

Jenny Cloud PBX fulfils all the above requirements and never needs to be replaced because it will always be at the cutting edge of technology.

If you have three telephone extensions or two thousand telephone extensions across all your company branches, we have a solution for you.
